Law Practice

Raman Grewal is a senior lawyer in the Knowledge Management Group of Stikeman Elliott. She works primarily with the firm's Securities and Structured Finance Groups and is responsible for developing and managing legal content and current awareness to ensure that both lawyers and clients have the benefit of the firm's collective legal expertise and the latest in legal and industry developments. Ms. Grewal has a lead role in training and educating practice group members about legal, regulatory and market developments through formal and informal education initiatives, including internal and external continuing legal education, publications and presentations.

Our practicing lawyers consult with Ms. Grewal on a variety of practice matters, including securities regulatory compliance, corporate finance and capital markets developments as well as opinion and drafting issues. Ms. Grewal also works on a wide range of other firm-wide Knowledge Management initiatives, including internal and external continuing legal education, publications and client development initiatives.

Professional Activities

Ms. Grewal is a member of the Law Society of Upper Canada and the Canadian Bar Association.

Publications & Conferences

Ms. Grewal is one of the managing editors of the Corporate Governance Report, a leading Canadian quarterly publication that focuses on a wide range of corporate governance matters. She has also appeared as speaker at a number of conferences and published a variety of articles relating to governance, disclosure and securities regulatory compliance.

Representative Work

Ms. Grewal has advised on governance matters for a wide range of public and private entities, including Crown corporations and investment funds. Her work includes compliance audits, development of internal policies and procedures relating to a variety of governance matters, including internal and disclosure controls, corporate disclosure, insider trading and conflicts of interest and ethics as well as directors' and officers' liability and advice to non-Canadian companies becoming reporting issuers or otherwise doing business in Canada. Recently, she participated in advising the Government of Canada's Expert Panel on Securities Regulation on the modernization of securities legislation, whose work has led to the current federal initiative to establish a national securities regulatory authority.

Education

York University (B.A.S. 2000), University of Windsor (LL.B. 1997), University of Detroit (J.D. 1997).

Background

Prior to joining Stikeman Elliott, Ms. Grewal practised corporate finance and securities with a major Toronto law firm where her practice included public and private financings and M&A, as well as corporate finance and regulatory compliance. Ms. Grewal also articulated as a law clerk to the Chief Justice and Justices of the Court of Appeal for Ontario.
